"The Accelerator workshop was wonderfully calm, I trust Cam because he isn't about hype or selling more products, I love his style, although the discussion of more depths elements before the basics had been done was a little harder to follow. I loved being able to ask lots of questions throughout the program. Help support was done in such friendliness, they were all constantly on the lookout to make sure if any of the participants were challenged with the learning and finding it difficult, they would then help them to move forward."
